October 7, 2022

Global stock markets are still highly volatile, pressured by a vicious cycle of high inflations, interest rate hikes, and economic recession. Moreover, geopolitical risk from Russia-Ukraine, the Korean Peninsula, and the Taiwan Strait conflicts is rising. Meanwhile, Thailand's economy is recovering; 2H22 GDP growth is expected at least 3.6% on average. Inflation is slowing down noticeably, so the interest rate should not be hiked too aggressively. SET Index is projected to rebound. We recommend stocks benefiting from Thailand's economic recovery and a rebound in tourism as well as banking plays.

SET Index is expected to swing up around 1,575-1,595 pts. We sell ADVANC (10%) to cut loss and switch to CBG. Top picks are CBG, CKP, and HMPRO.

GLOBAL MARKETS VOLATILE AMID INFLATIONS, RATE HIKES, RECESSION IN DEVELOPED COUNTRIES

Global stock markets fell for the second consecutive day, led by US (down 0.6-1.2%) and Europe (down 0.4-0.8%), due to economic recession concern. Eurozone retail sales in August fell 2%yoy (worse than 1.7%yoy), reflecting a decline in consumer spending. U.S. initial jobless claims rose from 190,000 to 219,000 (higher than 203,000 expected), showing the weak labor market.

Inflations of developed countries are less likely to drop. Inflation rates of the UK and Eurozone already reached 10%yoy. As long as inflations stay high, interest rates are projected to be hiked further, raising economic recession risk among developed countries. Particularly, Fed, the Bank of England (BOE), and the European Central Bank (ECB) may raise interest rate beyond end-2022 projections of 4.25%, 4.75%, and 2.25%.

Moreover, geopolitical risk is escalating. After Russian President Vladimir Putin declared the annexation of four Ukrainian regions, Ukraine has successfully reclaimed three cities in Kherson and it is pushing to reclaim more territories back from Russia. In the Korean Peninsula, North Korea launched missiles in waters outside Japan's exclusive economic zone, marking North Korea's second missile launch in three days or the sixth launch in 12 days (since late-September 2022).

Reported tonight, U.S. nonfarm payrolls in September are expected at 250,000, down from 315,000 in August; if the actual figure misses forecast, economic recession risk will rise while interest rate hikes will be less likely in the short term.

Rising inflations leads to economic hikes and higher economic recession risk, pressuring financial markets. Moreover, geopolitical risk is escalating significantly, posing greater risk on major stock markets.

OIL PRICE VOLATILE, DEPENDING ON SUPPLY

OPEC+ agreed to reduce oil production by 2 million bpd for November 2022, reducing global crude oil supply and boosting oil price. In contrast, the US announced it will release additional 10 million barrels of Strategic Petroleum Reserve (SPR) in November to increase oil supply and stop a surge in oil price.

These issues may cause oil price to either rise or fall slightly. Oil price already rose to reflect OPEC+ oil output cut, while demand is projected to decline amid global economic concern. We maintain our assumption on Dubai crude oil price at US$100 for 2022, US$90 for 2023, and US$75 from 2024 on.

The EU agrees to impose a price cap on Russian oil and prohibit maritime transportation of Russian oil to other countries at a higher price than the cap;

the G7 will enforce the sanctions on December 5, 2022. Additional sanctions on Russia will be imposed as follows:

- Halting export of aircraft parts to Russia.
- Limiting import of steel from Russia.
- Banning import of goods from Russia, e.g. wood pulp, paper, chemical.
- Prohibiting ICT, engineering, and legal services for Russian entities.

Russia is selling oil at lower price to Asian countries (e.g. China, India, Myanmar, and Indonesia). The Philippines stated that it may need to buy fuel and fertilizer from Russia as long as global energy prices are rising. This will pressure the European economy.

COUNTRY BUYING RUSSIAN OIL

Country	Situation	Period
China	Increasing import of inexpensive Russian oil. Russia is becoming China's oil supplier (replacing Saudi Arabia).	Aug-22
India	Increasing import of Russian oil for lower price.	Aug-22
Myanmar Myanmar	Starting to buy Russian fuel and paying in Ruble (RUB).	Sep-22
Indonesia	Considering buying Russian oil at the price 30% lower than the target price.	Sep-22
Philippines	Probably starting to import fuel and fertilizer from Russia.	Oct-22

Due to oil supply management of the US and OPEC+, crude oil price is expected to fluctuate longer. Investors should be trading cautiously. We maintain our assumption on Dubai crude oil price at US$100 for 2022, US$90 for 2023, and US$75 from 2024 on.
